Roman Statues Activity

In this activity your group will present themselves as a statue to the Legacy of Rome. A statue is like a monument that symbolizes an event or events. Think of the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor. Liberty represents the freedoms that the United States grants to people who immigrate to the U.S.

Your statue must represent the Legacy of Rome.
Use your notes & decide on a topic that you can all agree represents the Legacy of Rome.
Your group must then pose as a representation of that topic.

The speaker must then tell the audience in the Forum Romanum (our classroom) why each member is posed in the way that they are and what the topic is for the group.
